Sūrah al-Taghābun, a Madani surah, was the 110th surah that was revealed to the Holy Prophet (S). In the current order of the Qur'an, it is the 64th surah located in juz' 28. The surah has 18 ayaah, 242 words, and 1,091 letters. Regarding volume, it is among Mufassalat (which have several short verses). Since this surah begins with the praise of God, it is considered among Musabbihat and is the last of the series. This surah is named al-Taghabun, because in ayah 9, the Day of Judgement is mentioned as Yawm al-Taghabun (Day of Regret). Some of the topics discussed in this surah are the Hereafter, the creation of human being and some moral instructions such as trust in God, desirability of Good Loan and avoiding stinginess.

It is transmitted from the Holy Prophet (S) that if a person recites Surah al-Taghabun, sudden death will be away from him. Also, if a person recites this surah in obligatory prayers, it intercedes for him on the Day of Judgement and will be a just witness which will testify in favor of the reciter before God on the Day of Judgement. Also, afterward, it will not leave him until it takes him into the Paradise.
